weight, while on the other side it records the weight and cost. There is a row of figures denoting the cents per pound and by following the line from the weight to the cost per pound, the total amount of the purchase is recorded.
The weighing apparatus is adjusted by screws on either side with a small level in the center.

The Lynn Item has this to say of a former Norway woman: "Belle Stevens, surprise by the employees who presented her with a handsome diamond ring, Thursday afternoon, as the resigned on Saturday to become forelady of the stitching room of the Essex Shoe Co. of South Boston, where she has assumed charge.

Emma Kimball made the presentation speech, to which Miss Stevens manifested her feeling of appreciation. Ice cream and cake were served. Miss Stevens has been in charge of the vamps for the past three years. In going to her new position here has extended their best wishes for her success as fore-lady of the Boston factory." The P. J.
Harney Shoe Co. is one of the largest shoe firms in Lynn. She was liked by all throughout the factory. She will take full charge of the Essex Shoe Co.
stitching room.

"Miss Petticoats."
One of the most charming plays is "Miss Petticoats," from the Dwight Tilton, which will be presented by Yale Stock Opera House, for three nights commencing Thursday, Nov. 9th.
The play presents a new theme to the auditor and is not only delightful, but refreshing as well. The striving of the humble little heroine to win the affection of the rich man in the world for her, and her ultimate triumph despite trials and tribulations, her steadfast loyalty to him in his many troubles all play heavily on the heart strings of the audience.
The play is one of the most romantic women will admire and make girls will revel in.
Good specialties will be given between acts. Seats now on sale at Stone's Drug Store.

NUMBER 45.

SEWERS, CESSPOOLS, PESTILENCE, ETC.
The water was drawn out of the cesspool at the upper end of the village last Monday. Extensions to sewer pipes were laid. The necessity for such an act is unknown.

The public cesspool is commonly called Cummings Mill pond and is spanned by Mill street bridge.
A half dozen houses on Pike Hill empty its sewerage into it, do not have sewers from Main street and all on Crescent street and surrounding places that are high enough up, making a total of some thirty families and why should not this receptacle be called the Upper Village Cesspool?

That is exactly what it is, a breeding hole of pestilence—nothing else.
Monday, the dogs, cats and men paddled in this stored filth to return home and spread germs of disease.

How long shall we suffer such a condition? How long, we ask?
Are dollars and cents more precious to us than the lives of our children and citizens?

Another and bigger Public Cesspool is held back by the dam of the N. & P.
Street Railway at Steep Falls. Have you examined it? If not, do so. It is there and can be seen. You needn't take our word for it.
Into this the microbes, germs and seeds of diseases are filtered together with the sewerage of over one hundred families.

The stenoh arising on an August night is something awful, especially when the water is low. You have noticed it and spoken about it and refrained from taking your out-of-town friends down that way lest they should get a bad impression of the sanitary conditions of your town. This is a fact. Don't deny it.
The Lannery Brook is emptied the daily sewerage of B. F. Spiney & Co's shops, augmented by several families. You have stood on the Main street bridge and seen the stagnant water so vile and deadly as not to support animal life.

Dogs, cats, chickens and children play about this stream and in the meadow—the treasure house of pestilence—and we the people have become so accustomed to it that we laugh at the suggestion of danger.
How long can we suffer this condition to exist and claim to be sensible people?
How long?

Last year a charter for a public sewer was gotten and a preliminary survey was made. The estimated expense for the construction was over $50,000 and at the corporation meeting it was voted down by a majority of 13 voters. This matter will come before the voters next spring.

Byron Lane and Harry Murray, traveling men from Portland and Auburn told the writer last Tuesday, that they were to cut out coming to Norway, because the streets were so dangerous. They were liable to be lost in the mud and this risk to their stores and family was more than the trade would warrant and hence they would skip the town.

We refrained from showing them two big sewerage cesspools within the village and of telling them of the prevailing contagious disease which had closed our public schools and blantly made a somewhat lame apology for the muddy streets because it rained the night before.
How long, oh how long, shall we wade in mud and wallow in the filth and be bound and quarantined by the Board of Health?

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER
(OXFORD COUNTY, ME.)

NOVEMBER 10, 1911, NORWAY, MAINE.

VOLUME XLII.

Diphtheria.
All precaution being taken to check speed of disease; schools closed; Board of Health busy.

In the past few weeks there have been a number of cases of diphtheria reported to the Board of Health, and at the present time there are only five cases of diphtheria: Lauretine Foster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Foster of Main St., Ruby Swift, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Swift of Paris St., Minnie Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
O. Hill of Alpine St., Roland Hussey, son of Mrs. Belle Hussey, who resides in one of Freeland Howe's rent and Joe Merrill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiggin Merrill, and all the above are quarantined.

Two cases are yet under suspicion that of Esther Klain, and Ruth Smith daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Smith and are waiting development.

On Monday the Board of Health issued the following: Notice!
Parents Attention.
"On account of diphtheria the schools have been closed till further notice.
Parents are warned to keep their children on their own premises and allow no other children in their houses.
Children will not be allowed in any public gathering, theatre, school social,
Sunday school and churches.
Strict attention to the above order will save yourselves trouble."

Per order Board of Health Every precaution is being taken by the Board of Health to stop the speed of the disease, and if the parents and every citizen do their part there will be no trouble.

The schools will not be reopened until it is deemed best by the Board of Health. The school houses will all be disinfected and the sewerage looked into before the opening of the schools.
During the time that the schools are closed, the Public Library will also be closed and no books will be taken or given out. This went into effect Wednesday night.

Now, in regard to children being on the streets. This does not mean they must not go out of doors. It means that parents must not allow their children to go out and gather with other children and play. This does not hinder children being sent to the stores on errands, providing they go directly and do the errands and return home. The children so sent on an errand, should be given a written excuse by the parents and if children are seen without such excuse and if detained by the officer a second time, the parents will be prosecuted.

C. F. Boobar has been engaged to patrol the streets and look out for such cases. He commenced work Thursday morning.

The disease of diphtheria is contracted from individual to individual. The diphtheritic germ is alive in the throat and may be for three or four weeks after the patient is convalescent, and during this time the disease can be contracted from the individual. If the child has a sore throat, call a physician at once to save further trouble.

The law requires that every case of diphtheria shall be reported to the Board of Health by some responsible party, and every case of diphtheria that is not reported and is found out afterward, the offending party will be prosecuted.

The Board of Health has made a thorough investigation of the out-houses and sink drains throughout the village and where they were found unsanitary they were put in sanitary condition. They have also investigated the meat markets and slaughter houses with the same results.

The Board of Health is earnestly endeavoring to stamp out the disease before an epidemic gets started, and it feels almost certain that this is being accomplished. The Board will do all that is in its power to prevent all the hearty co-operation of the citizens.

Rexford Seavey of North Conway, N.
H., has been a recent guest at Frank Pottle's.

A. Bicknell is assisting in H. B.
Foster's clothing store during the absence of Mr. Foster and Lee M. Smith.

John P. Sampson has connected his house on Main street with city water.
He now has both city water and spring water.

Rev. R. J. Bruce will preach next Sunday morning from the theme "Is There Any Word from the Lord?" Jeremiah 37:17.

John Walker, H. F. Ford, L. H. Cushman and H. F. Andrews are serving at Kora Temple pilgrimage to Houlton this week.

Katherine Stone and Mr. and Mrs.
Arthur Holman of Oisfield have been spending a few days at J. S. & J. H.
Millet's.

The Y. P. C. U. of the Universalist church will have a social supper at Concert Hall, Tuesday evening, Nov. 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Q. Elliott, who have been spending the summer at their farm in North Norway, returned to their home in the village, Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Murdoch, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Murdoch and family and Mr. and Mrs. William Cash attended the funeral of Mr. Royce at Oxford, Tuesday.

The ladies' circle at the Center will be entertained at the chapel on Wednesday, Nov. 15, by Mrs. M. G. Richardson and Mrs. Alvin Brown. Dinner will be served as usual.

The Andrews Brothers had a car load of twenty-one horses arrive, Thursday night and before three o'clock on Friday they were disposed of with the exception of two.

Mr. E. O. French donated a basket of prize McIntosh Red to the employees at the postoffice. More than one who has seen this basket of fruit would not tell they might have been the fortunate one.

The Universalist Sunday School teachers met with Mrs. James Danforth on Tuesday evening and discussed The Training of the Sunday School Teachers.
These studies perfect the teachers further for their work."

Way of the Wives.
Men in Maine who have been married to two or more wives—at different times, of course—claim that wives, who are forever car or train, who forget to take their shopping bag from the lunch room or from the waiting room, who borrow their husband's fountain pen and leave it on board a boat or a train—all these deliciously eccentric and surprising wives are becoming less pronounced in their eccentricities than they were before rapid and frequent trains and steamboats began to vex the State with their noise and smoke.
It seems as if a natural man or woman —he or she—remembers in proportion to how much he or she is compelled to remember. Memory is more a matter of practice, than it is a gift. Seldom does a human being who lives upon earth, have the perfect memory that was possessed by the late Lord Macaulay.
At and before the time printing from types was invented there were scores of men and women who could repeat the entire Bible from memory. This great accomplishment came from long and patient study, applied over terms of years. Books have been filled with the memorizing feats of famous actors and actresses in modern times, many of which are truly remarkable.
Memory is a most elusive mistress to follow. What are called "forgetful wives" are not freaks or weak-minded. They are either out of practice, or have never had a chance to practice at all. Men and associations, who advertise to equip such of us as forget easily with what they term "perfect memories" should have their statements accepted, if accepted at all, with a sizable grain of salt.
It is reasonably certain that any party who will pay out money to advertise his own method of memorizing, has some basis of fact besides the claim. How much depends upon the man who advertises, and upon his method.
As a rule, however, the art of memorizing depends upon close and faithful study. The world of today has small use for the man or woman, who is perpetually saying as "shortcomings, the tedious old formula—"I forget."
The man or the woman who forgets, as a rule, is a back number.—[Bargor

From Old Man's Gray Matter.
If there is anything that tries a man's soul it is a chair that is all worn out and which threatens to fall at each using time. A man will put up with a rickety chair longer than anything else in the world.
Paraphrase. If some men could play baseball as well as they jolly over the phone, Ty Cobb wouldn't be in it for a minute.
Cookies are good medicine if the right kind makes them. Anyway, the right kind is generally a good sort of a doctor in all things besides the gold-faded cookies.
Everybody to his dad. Some people are always seen at funerals who never knew the deceased even by sight, and they cry with the utmost ease.
When someone tells a man that he is smart, how the thrill runs up and down his backbone, and he then really thinks he is.
Old maids are the salt of the earth, many times, but there are those who think they run the earth. These are the kind who are so disagreeable when they get to be real aged old maids, because they found it was all a mistake—this running the universe.
If a girl were as homely as a carload of slabs, and she had a pretty shoulder, she has enough capital to set the river on fire every time. A round, warm shoulder can make or break kingdoms.
The girl who won't wear underclothes in winter, when her good mother tries to induce her to do so, is following a dangerous rule that flimsy society lays down. The mother knows best. Such a girl is the object of goo-goo eyes from the undertaker.
About everybody who works for a big firm has the idea that the firm's cash box is a legitimate proposition for dependence. The trouble with some very good workmen is that they think the firm they work for is a mercantile Monte Cristo.

Big Prediction For Acre.
The Maine Sanatorium Farm at Hebron has done something worth bragging about in the way of corn raising this year. E. M. Pierce, Bert Morrill and Ernest Asbery, acting as a disinterested committee, have surveyed and weighed an acre of Northern Flint corn, grown on this farm by E. B. Beaton, the superintendent, during the present season.
The corn was husked and weighed at it came from the field and weighed out 8280 pounds, which is equal to 97% bushels of shelled corn, or 137 bushels of corn on the cob, per acre. The land was light clay, previously in garden or manure and fertilizer, but this year no other fertilizer than the Stockbridge corn fertilizer was applied, 700 pounds broadcast, and 300 pounds in the hill.
The rows were 3 ft. apart, and the seed, which was of the Northern Flint variety, was planted 12 inches apart in the rows by machine and covered about an inch and a half. The pieces were cultivated about once each week, using weeder and cultivator, respectively, as long as possible without breaking the stalks.
The yield of this piece is certainly creditable to the state and to Robertson who gave it his personal supervision throughout the season.

SAVED MANY FROM DEATH.
W. L. Mock, of Mock, Ark., believes he has saved many lives in his 25 years of experience in the drug business.
"What I always like to do," he writes,
"is to recommend Dr. King's hard cold, hoarseness, obstinate coughs, la grippe, croup, asthma or other bronchial affection, for I feel sure that a number of my neighbors are alive and well to-day because they took my advice to use it. I honestly believe it's the best throat and lung medicine that's made." Easy to prove he's right. Get a trial bottle free,

Question:—I live at home with mamma, who is too busy cooking and sweeping and washing dishes and floors and setting table and doing such things to advise me, so I appeal to you. Instead of any exercise that will develop my neck and arms?
Answer:—Do your mother's work for six months. This will develop your arms and neck, also your disposition.
We knew a girl who did this who also caught a wealthy young man when he learned she was running the house.

Old-Time Materials in Millinery.
Fringe continues to find ready sale.
Souffles are coming in vogue again on crowns and wraps along with many old-fashioned materials, and this idea appears also on hats.
Velvet brocade is another old timer revived, indeed many of the hats and gowns hark back to a period of 20 years and more, but let us hasten to add that the touch of time has been kind for they are minus their unloveliness and come to us with modern improvements, so to speak.
The winter of 1911-12, from a fashion standpoint, leaves little to be desired.
There is variety and charm in the new modes.—[The Millinery Trade Review.

A Doer.

So you want a position in my firm? said the fat man with the thick gold chain. Well, what were you in your last job?

A doer, sir, answered the sad-eyed applicant.

What's that? asked the employer.

Well, sir, said the sad-eyed one. I was the doer, and the rest were the takers. When my governor wanted a thing done he would tell the cashier, the cashier would tell it to the bookkeeper, the bookkeeper would tell it to his assistant, his assistant would tell it to the chief clerk, and the chief clerk would tell it to me.

And what would happen then?

Well, sir, replied the sad-eyed applicant, as I hadn't anyone to mention it to, I'd—do it.

WEST SUMNER.

Another Account of the Fire.

Fire broke out in J. A. Tuell's fire-drying house and bakery that are connected early Friday morning at about 1 o'clock. It was with great difficulty that they got out of the building. It was so filled with smoke and fire, accidentally Mr. Tuell hit the key to the front door and opened it, that they made their way out of the house in their nightrobes and rescued A. O. Tuell, his father who has passed his ninth milestone and blind, not able to save anything from the burning buildings. Nothing was saved, their money that was upstairs was burned with the rest, about $80. It was a miracle that other buildings were saved, but for the heroic fire-fighters, three more must have gone in the flames.

BRYANT POND.

Edwin Andrews.

Edwin Andrews died early Thursday morning after an illness of only four days. For some years he had been in poor health, still, he had kept on paying close attention to his affairs and was considered one of the most stirring business men of the town.

He was born in Woodstock about 48 years ago and was the son of the late Jesse Andrews of East Woodstock.

His business life began in his boyhood here he had run a general store at Milton Plantation and was for a short time in the grain trade at Rumford Falls.

Some eleven years ago he purchased the old Lyman Bolster store, then owned by the Bartlett heirs, and engaged here in general trade, doing also quite an extensive business in grain and flour. He was a member of Jefferson Lodge of Masons.

Besides an aged mother he leaves a widow and one son, William Andrews of South Woodstock.

The funeral was held at the residence, Saturday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. J. H. Little of Bethel. Burial in Riverside cemetery at South Paris.

Edwin Andrews was well known in this vicinity as a merchant, grain dealer and keeper of a lively stable. Few people would be missed in a community as he will be, for the reason that he never turned a deaf ear to any one who was in trouble and asked him for help, and many times he would take the pains to find out who the needy ones were, and there are many people in his home town who truly say, "He was the best friend I ever had."

It will never be known how many heavy hearts he has lightened by the ever ready sympathy which was manifested in his daily life.

As a son it was his wish to lighten the descending path of his aged mother, Mrs. Rachel Edwards of South Woodstock, and while she sits by the window in her little cottage, as was her wont, and watches for her boy who will never come again, she has the beautiful assurance that the last thought of her comfort was foremost in his mind.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

A Pike Hill Deer.
C. E. Bradford spent some little time hunting on the other side of Pike Hill, Thursday, and secured several partridges. While there he noticed deer tracks but saw no deer and decided to call around to the same place early Friday morning.
About daybreak he started out and in a short time spied a young deer on a knoll near John Parsons'. He fired and the deer fell to the ground. It was a young one and weighed about 70 pounds. Mr. Bradford thinks he has better luck hunting near home than he does when he goes a long distance. Earlier in the season he was away two days but failed to see a deer.

A. Carl Tubbs, Walter Tubbs, Fred Noble of Harrison and Fred Lovering, who have been on a four days' hunting trip in Upton, returned Friday with seven deer. The party camped at the head of the lake in Upton.

If you have anything that is worth selling why don't you turn it into cash by advertising in the Intelligence column of this paper?

Theodore Frost entertained the members of the Junior class, N. H. S. at his home, Friday evening, when the party enjoyed a fine supper, after which they went to the Grange Hall and attended the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Woodman have closed their cottage by the Lake and have taken rooms at the Elm House. They have a white cat and a dog to look after and are living in the room occupied by the recent proprietor of the Elm House for 41 years.

A couple of doctors were recently called in consultation over a patient, who lives in the northern part of the town. The journey was made by team in the night time. The driver was cautioned not to run over a rabbit which was seen in the road some distance ahead. The driver did not see the animal that was walking in the wheel rut and over it they went. The team was stopped to see what damage was done the poor thing and as one of the doctors was alighting he was deluged in the strongest perfume known to the animal kingdom. It was something awful. The fumes of burning brimstone and kerosene were in it. On their return home they buried their fur coats in the ground.

Annual Grange Fair

The annual Grange Fair was held at the Grange Hall Friday and Saturday afternoons and was attended by a good crowd and a ready sale of the articles was in evidence as one scanned the tables in the latter part of the afternoon.

The Grange Fair is each year a very popular event in the Grange calendar and one to which the Grangers work unceasingly to make a complete success. The merry chatter of the patrons as well as the vendors, as it rang through the hall, caused all to realize that the fair was at its best.

The fancy table, with an over head lattice work of green and white and fancy green, white and gold crepe paper decorations, was located at the right of the door. This table was in charge of Helen Noyes and Mrs. Luella Merriam, assisted by Lolla Watson, Viola Abbott and Addie Thurston. Here were sold all sorts of fancy articles including a variety of crocheted and embroidered articles, raffia work, pin-cushions and a nice assortment of post cards.

The mystery table was in charge of Mrs. Mary J. Bennett, Mrs. Whitney Buck and Florence Grover. Bundles all valued at 5c each were sold at the table and from the covered booth and each did a good business disposing of the mysterious packages.

The children's table was presided over by Mrs. John Howe, Mrs. H. D. Smith, Mrs. Grace Dunn, Ethel Abbott and Mrs. Irene Cummings. Here were sold a variety of children's goods including mittens, dresses, skirts, etc.

At the apron table, were Mrs. D. W. Goodwin, Mrs. Horace Oxnard and Bessie Delano. As usual this table which is a special favorite of the ladies was well patronized.

The candy table was in front of the stage and was in charge of Goldie Frost, Katherine Stone, Annie Gibson, Mildred Holmes, Helen Howe and Elizabeth Drew.

The ice cream table did a good business in spite of the cold day. This was in charge of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Bangs, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Perry and Mrs. A. M. Dunham.

Mrs. Ed. Cox embroidered a handsome pair of pillow cases and sheet which were sold by postcards. The number was concealed in the articles and the one purchasing the corresponding number took the articles. A large squash was sold by postcards in the same way except that they guessed the weight. These were in charge of Lolla Watson.

The handkerchief and neckwear booth at the lower end of the hall was in charge of Annie Whitehouse, Mrs. Ina Pike, Mrs. Sarah Farnum, Mrs. Cora Seavey and Mrs. Charles Dunn.

The fruit and canned goods table was in charge of Mrs. Kate Delano, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Abbott, Will Delano and Rust Jackson and all kinds of fruit and vegetables were on sale.

Friday evening a dance was held in the Grange hall under the management of the Heywood club and was for the benefit of the Grange. There was a good attendance.

The music was furnished by Dunham's orchestra. Horace Dinmore and Harry Everett were floor managers. Cakes and ice cream were served at intermission.

Saturday from 12 to 2 o'clock the ladies of the Grange served one of their excellent Grange dinners and all roads led to the Grange hall soon after 12 o'clock. The dinner consisted of a real old-fashioned New England boiled dinner, baked beans and brown bread, pies of all kinds, hot Indian pudding and cream. There was a good sized crowd out to the dinner and the tables were kept well filled during the noon hour.

Those in direct charge of the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. George Abbott, assisted by the ladies of the Grange.

A Helpless Invalid

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

A woman who is sick and suffering, and won't at least try a medicine which has the record of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is, it would almost seem, to blame for her own wretchedness. Read what this woman says:

Richmond, Mo. — "When my second daughter was eighteen months old I was pronounced a helpless invalid by specialists. I had a consultation of doctors and they said I had a severe case of ulceration. I was in bed for ten weeks, had sinking spells, and was pronounced to be in a dangerous condition. My father insisted that we try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and brought me six bottles. I soon began to improve, and before it had all been taken I was as well and strong as ever, — my friends hardly recognizing me so great was the change." — Mrs. Woodson Branstetter, Richmond, Mo.

There are literally hundreds of thousands of women in the United States who have been benefited by this famous old remedy, which was produced from roots and herbs over thirty years ago by a woman to relieve woman's suffering.

Read what another woman says: — Jonesboro, Texas. — "I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for myself and daughter, and consider it unequalled for all female diseases. I would not be without it for anything. I wish every mother in America could be persuaded to use it as there would be less suffering among our sex. I am always glad to speak a word of praise for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and you are at liberty to use this testimonial." — Mrs. James T. Lawrence, Jonesboro, Texas.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering from the same trouble?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for women. It is a medicine which will not try to force its way into the system. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

If the slightest trouble appears which you do not understand, write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for her advice — it is free and always helpful.

The snow of Thursday brought the cattle and horses to the barn and kept the farmers busy for the next two days.

George E. Smith and Parker Russell went to Lewiston, Saturday, and saw the football game between Bates and Bowdoin.

The Hanover base ball team played Gould's Academy, Friday evening, and lost the game by a score of 21 to 8. They play "Pinhook" next week.

The lucky hunters were Ed Billings and Charles Reed with three large bucks. Clarence Howe secured a nice buck and a party at Indian Rock camp got two.

Sunday being a very pleasant day a number of people from here went to Bangor and purchased a drove of cattle and sheep.

NORWAY, SOUTH PARIS

There are many Incidental Benefits in having a Checking Account in

THIS STRONG NATIONAL BANK

It enables you to keep track of your money matters in a systematic way. The entries in your bank book show how much money you have received, and the stubs of your check book and also the cancelled checks returned by the Bank show how much you have paid out and where the money went. In this way this Bank virtually keeps your books for you, and, we may add, few individuals ever succeed in keeping accurate account of their finances in any other way.

The cancelled checks, returned by the Bank each month, are legal receipts for your payments. If you pay in cash you will often fail to get receipts but paying by check automatically gives you an indisputable receipt for every payment and in a form very easy to file for future reference. You also avoid asking for a receipt, which is sometimes, though wrongfully, looked upon as evidence of personal suspicion.

In view of all these advantages can you ignore the need of a bank account for yourself?

Bakery Burned.

The buildings of J. A. Tuell at West Sumner and occupied by him as a residence and bakery were totally consumed by fire at an early hour Friday morning. Scarcely anything was saved. Mr. Tuell's father, an aged and blind man, lived there.

The family have found shelter at Herbert Heath's for the present. The fire is supposed to have started near the chimney and was well under way when discovered by the family.

Hospitality of Hotel Fireplace.

On one of the surprisingly cold nights that sometimes help Atlanta to remember that, as her friends say, she is a northern city in bustling energy while remaining calm in climate and generous estimate of things worth while in life, a gentleman got off the train at midnight and asked a porter to show him a good hotel. The man started off up the street and, arriving at the corner of Texas street, along behind, shoulders hunched to his ears. Behind some plate glass windows which they were about to pass the newcomer noted eagerly a rosy light dancing on the ceiling and furniture and parted curtains. "Was the place on fire?" he stopped his guide with a hasty hand on his shoulder. "Here, what's going on in there?" "Oh, that's just the log fire burnin' up bright, sah." "Well, what sort of a place is that?" "It's a hotel." "That's where I'm going, then." And the traveler dived straightway into the welcoming circle of the snapping pine logs.

The guest's hosty in this case needed no bush—a growing sign above the door—on the fire, the hospitality of the open fire was a summons not to resist. "On such a night."

Rules For Social Success.

1. Don't tell long stories, or even short ones, unless you have an especial gift for it.
 2. Remember that talking about yourself is an indulgence, and as such, should be strictly limited.
 3. If another person tells you of some sensation or experience of her own, don't immediately say it with one of yours. "Swapping tastes" is of the lowest order of conversation. I have been in circles where the talk consisted of each woman's taking her turn in telling how she thought or felt about some commonplace subject, such as the digestibility of shell fish, or liability to cold.
 4. Never lose consciousness of the proportion of the talk you are usurping, and, if you are taking more than your share, be sure that the quality matches the quantity.
 5. Discriminate always between talk for your own pleasure and talk for your friends'. People constantly tell the stupidest anecdotes because these have become charged with some extraneous charm impossible to transmit. Perhaps the occasion when it took place was important because a no particular person was there, and every detail of it was taken on a radiance visible only to the narrator.
- Rules For Social Success.
- Be yourself. Don't imitate someone else.
- Be as nice to women as you are to men.
- Be sure to be cordial to older men and women.
- Be natural. Forget yourself.
- Don't let one man monopolize you.
- Look as though you were having a good time, even if you are not.
- Make every man feel that you appreciate his courtesies. Don't gush over them or over him.
- Don't spend your time in corners with a man. Stay in the open.
- Never fail to pay all your calls.
- Let nothing prevent you from being prompt.
- Suicide.
- Henry Fecteau, a laborer of Rumford, was found Wednesday night in the cell which he was occupying in the Rumford jail, in a dying condition. He had cut his throat with a piece of glass and died before a physician could reach him.
- Fecteau, who is about 45 years of age, was arrested on the charge of intoxication, an offense on which he had been locked up on previous occasions. Lying near him was a piece of glass which he had obtained by breaking his water bottle. He was alive when found but died before aid could reach him.
- He is survived by a widow and several children.

Avoid Harsh Drugs.

Many Catholics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on a positive guarantee that it will cure you in a few days. If it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. These are prompt, soothing, and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well-known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation. It forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not grip, purge, nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons, and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in three size packages, 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store, F. P. Stone, 45 Main street, Norway, Me.

RUMFORD CENTER.

A few from here attended the Mechanics fair at Rumford.

The C. V. L. C. will meet with Mrs. Fred Cole next Wednesday, Sunday.

There will be a chicken pie supper at the Grange Hall, Thursday, Nov. 9.

Mrs. T. H. Burgess is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Phillip Pottle of Lewiston.

Dana Elliot and family visited Lee Elliott and wife of South Rumford, Sunday.

Mrs. Susanna Doloff was taken ill last week requiring the services of a physician for a few days. She is much better now.

Rev. J. F. Alvery and wife attended the Halloween social and entertainment at Rumford Corner, Tuesday evening, Oct. 31.

E. F. Spencer and Phillip Howatt, who have been employed labelling at the cork factory, went to their homes, Wednesday, Nov. 1st.

George Kimball and wife went to Boston, Saturday morning, where they will spend a few days with Florence Kimball. Mr. Kimball and wife will also visit Mrs. Frank Clough of Lowell, Mass., and relatives in Nashua, N. H.

The Girls' Merry-making.

Halloween eve was delightfully observed by the girls of the Hebron Y. M. C. A., whose Halloween party was the most successful in the history of the school. The guests were met at the door by ghosts and witches, who conducted them through the parlors decorated for the occasion with jack-o'-lanterns, with cat and broom, while the electric lights were hidden in tastefully arranged crimson shades. Shortly after eight o'clock the guests were conducted to the large dining-room where an entertaining program was given. Cocoa and fudge were sold at different booths.

To Avoid a Cold.

With the sudden fall in temperature persons run a great risk of catching cold. There is one simple way of avoiding colds—keep your mouth shut while out of doors. The man or woman who comes out of an overheated room, especially at night, and breathes through the mouth, will either catch a bad cold, or irritate the lungs sufficiently to cause annoyance and unpleasantness. Chills are often the result of people talking freely while out of doors just after leaving a room full of hot air, and theater goers who discuss and laugh over the play on the way home are inviting illness.

November would be a pretty tough month, if it were not for football and Thanksgiving.

Maine Town Names.

Some of Them Are Said to Be Hard for Strangers to Pronounce.

The man who in Massachusetts says Le-o-minster at once reveals himself as a rank outsider. But if the Massachusetts man goes up into New Hampshire and inquires for what he calls Coose county, or Cooze county, the natives of Co-ose county wonder where he went to school. And in Maine, Saco is the test word that betrays the stranger within the State. For variety of pronunciations by those who don't know that word of only four letters is believed to hold the record.

They used to tell the story that as each train bearing summer visitors started up from Biddeford, just across the river, the brakeman announced thus: "The next station is Sayko-Sacko-Saroo-Sawco-Sayco-Saco!"

Maine people will tell you that it is pronounced exactly as it is spelled—S-a-c-o, S-a-w-k-o.

Any Maine man recognizes a fellow Maine man at once by his pronunciation of a town name. If the same name now as it was in Scriptural times, when the Gileadites held up every probable Ephraimite at the passage of the Jordan.

"Then said they unto him, say now Shimon; and he said Shimon, for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him and slew him at the passages of the Jordan; and there fell at that time of the Ephraimites forty and two thousand."

But in these modern days it is the summer visitor who is the true Ephraimite. And the Gileadites of Maine take his money—not his life. If a new arrival in the resort the natives call Saco, he starts to call it Sacko-ho-ow, the members of the Libby clan usually feel justified in charging him accordingly.

Moreover, when the citizen of Machias (Machias, with the accent on the ch) hears his town referred to as Mackey-us, by a man who says he lives in a city called Ni Yark, he feels like appealing to the interstate commerce commission.

But, all this aside, the pronunciation locally of Maine towns may well be of interest to everybody who lives in Maine, to everybody who has been in Maine and to everybody who would like to visit Maine.

Take the town of Skowhegan, the traveling man who calls it Skow-he-gan is known for a newcomer, at once, for all Somerset county knows the place is Skow-he-gan, with the accent on the big. The capital of Maine is most universally referred to in Maine as Aw-gue-ty. The "almost" is here given as a concession to the pride and precise few who by taking thought are able to call it Augusta.

Both Worcester and Webster declare that Bangor is pronounced Bang-gor, with the accent on the Bang, but about all the people there put the corner on that first g and make the word just Bang-gor.

Beginning in the southwest corner of the State, Kittery folk make it a two-syllabled word K-it-ry, while in nearby Berwick, North Berwick and South Berwick, they slur the w so that the word is almost Bur-rik.

Kennebunk, "two bunks this side of Kennebunkport," gets the accent on the bunk, while Biddeford loses the r and most of the o, making it pretty nearly Biddy-fur. Speak it quickly, please, with the accent on the Bid.

Up in Parsonsfield there are some newcomers who are trying to modernize the spelling of the town name by dropping the s and making it Parsonfield; this in face of the fact that the town was named after an early settler named Parsons, and in spite of the further fact that the manuscript act of incorporation, to be seen on the fourth floor of the State house in Boston, has it Parsonsfeld.

Windham, Gorham, Burnham and nearly all other towns with that ending are pronounced dictionary fashion, by dropping out at least of the ham. But in Boudinham and Waltham there must be no slicing of the ham; sound it out in full. And Bowdoin, by the way, is not Bough-doin, but Bo-do.

Katahdin, too, is pronounced phonetically about as Thoreau spelled it—Ka-tadn. Sebec and Lunee are accented just as in the Canadian Quebec; although the old-world city of Lubec was named as accented on the Lu.

Then there is Calais, down on the New Brunswick line to the native it is Kallis, but the traveled Ephraimite amuses them by calling it Kallay, though the French city is not frequently called like the Maine town by Englishmen, and even by some of its own residents.

The island of Mt. Desert, where Bar Harbor is, has on it also the town of Mt. Desert. And while Mt. De-zert is both the generally accepted and fashionable pronunciation, still in use in many parts of the island and on the mainland is Mt. Des-art. The dictionaries and gazetteers back them by following either pronunciation, and old timers argue that the present affected pronunciation is neither English nor French.

A town that a man who had never heard of and would want three guesses on is Olamoon. Take the guesses, and then know that it is Oh-lam-on, about like Oh Lamon with an a in it instead. There is a Cassano, a great many people, even some in distant parts of Maine, speak it in three syllables—Ca-na-an. Perhaps most of these are misled by following the old hymn writer who sang:

O, Can-a-ni bright Can-a-ni, I'm bound for the land of Can-a-ni. O, Can-a-ni it is my happy home; I'm bound for the land of Can-a-ni.

But it won't do. The place is called Canaan, both in the town itself and in the dictionaries, the gazetteers and the Biblical concordance.—Boston Globe.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; then add a few drops of the following: brick dust—cement, or settling—stringy or milky appearance—often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of their urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Mention this paper and remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.
